
RISK 2009 Winter Session Set For Saturday, 1/17

Posted by sing - 2009/01/07 05:51

This is a one day event set for January 17 to make planning easier for everyone. So set your calendar! More information will be forthcoming.

Pray for waves in the relatively "balmy" waters off RI!

/start Mr. Bill voice/

oh nooooooooooooo

/end Mr. Bill voice/

I was hoping it wouldn't be the 17th.
The 24th I could make. The 31st I could make.
The 17th, I could make, but the divorce would be ugly.

Alas, on the 17th, choosing discretion over valor, I shall be wearing a suit and tie and attending the wedding of some daughter who I barely know of a good friend of my dear, lovely wife's.

Of course, it is possible that the weather gods take pity...

Matunuck Rhode Island. More info to follow. Totally suck's Dan. Maybe plan on coming up those other dates and I'll come meet you. I'm sure others would come out as well. Mike

Why does divorce cost so much? "Cuz it works so well! LOL! Aw just hit on some bridesmaids and the wife will tell you to go home, then you grab yer gear and join us. LOL!

You are a resourceful man, Duke Wavewalker.

However, I now feel I have an even deeper understanding of your avatar.

I was also hoping it would be anything but the 17th. Hosting my daughter's birthday party that day. :(

Have fun everyone.

Do I read this correctly, that the RISK session WILL be on the 17th, no matter what the conditions, not like in past years where there was a 6 day / 3 week window? In any case, I plan on being there :woohoo: :woohoo: :woohoo:

Tony, you read it right.... one date so those who have to travel can make plans. The long range weather forecast looks favorable, lets hope for some surf.
